Security Risk Assessment

Administrative Review

Will examine policies and procedures to identify any deficiencies related to the documented processes for protecting sensitive information and systems. The review will include analysis of HR, IT, and other administrative processes that exist within the organization.

Physical Review

Will examine physical security as it relates to the protection of sensitive information and systems. The physical review will include a facility walkthrough to identify vulnerabilities that could pose a risk for a data breach.

Technical Review

Will examine IT controls and systems in place for the protection of electronic sensitive information. Review of antivirus, spam filtering, content filtering, firewalls, and encryption tools, and IT systems will be included.
