Overdose Awareness Day

What can you do for IOAD 2023?

International Overdose Awareness Day 2023 is quickly approaching and while the world seems to be spinning faster and the days going by quicker, for far too many families, time is standing still.

Losing a loved one to overdose is a tragedy no family should have to face, especially when many of these deaths are preventable thanks to life-saving interventions like naloxone.

Wear PURPLE on August 31st! Don't have shirts? Try pinning a purple ribbon.

September is Recovery Month

National Recovery Month (Recovery Month), which started in 1989, is a national observance held every September to promote and support new evidence-based treatment and recovery practices, the nation's strong and proud recovery community, and the dedication of service providers and communities who make recovery in all its forms possible.

SAMHSA aims to increase public awareness surrounding mental health and addiction recovery. In the years since Recovery Month launched, SAMHSA has timed announcements of initiatives and grant funding during Recovery Month, while collaborating with private and public entities to celebrate individuals during their long-term recoveries.

Free Webinar - NEAR Science: Beyond ACEs

Thursday, September 28, 2023 | Speaker: Ellen Roberts

This session will be led by Ellen Roberts, who is the Director of Ardmore Behavorial Health Collaborative at the Lighthouse Behavioral Wellness Centers. This session will introduce NEAR Science: Beyond ACEs, which is a science-informed, evidencebased curriculum that walks people through how toxic stress and trauma affect the brain, how the impact of early adversity and trauma can be transmitted from one generation to the next, more in-depth information about the findings from the original ACE (Adverse Childhood Experiences) study, and how to build strength and capacity in individuals and communities. Our learning objectives include understanding the key concepts of the nervous system and how it interrelates with experiences both positive and negative and how people adapt; to understand key components of the Adverse Childhood Experiences study and how to utilize the data to support communities; and finally, to become familiar with core protective systems and the importance of communities and support.

Opioid Settlement Funding Spending Discretion

Many of the lawsuits filed against companies involved in the opioid overdose crisis have now been resolved. As a result, over $30 billion in funding will be coming to states, cities, and counties over the next 18 years, with the first payments arriving in 2022. The agreements place limitations on how states and local communities can use the money with most of it being used to address the opioid overdose epidemic. To help your state and local jurisdictions use the money wisely, you can share the Primer on Spending Funds from the Opioid Litigation with your government officials to encourage appropriate use on this funding. The guide shares information on how to invest in evidence-based programs and services to address the opioid epidemic.

Contact your officials today to ensure the settlement funding is utilized!
